About Me

I studied Management Process while enrolled at the university. I consider myself to be fun and witty. I love spending time with my husband and dog, Bimbo. I love nature and water parks. I am very happy to be able to meet so many children and contribute at least a grain of sand to their development and growth.

Education

I went to University of Falcon in my country, Venezuela, and completed my degree in Management Process. I hope to continue my education in the area of Education.
